Ana Paula Côrtes

Ana Paula Côrtes grew up in Belo Horizonte, Brazil. As a child she loved coloring books and drawing caricatures of her teachers. She studied management and worked with business consulting until one day she decided to take a watercolor workshop and remembered what it felt like to add color to a blank page.

She switched careers and now works as an illustrator and comic-book artist. She sketches digitally, but prefers to work with traditional tools, such as watercolor, gouache, acrylic and pencils. Ana loves the texture of watercolor paper and smell of pencils!

Ana recently moved across the Americas, from Brazil to Canada, with her partner and their rescue dog.
